You've been lighting diyas all year.

Every problem you cracked, every idea you chased, every time you didn't give up. Tonight, the whole world catches up.

A NOTE FROM TEAM SCALER

To the one who kept the light on,

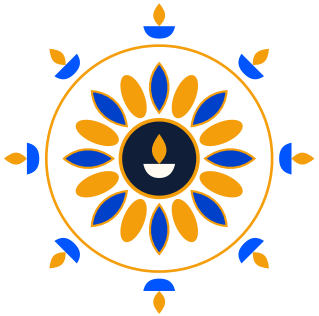

Diwali celebrates light finding its way through the dark. This year, we watched you do exactly that: one late night, one stubborn bug, one “wait… it works!” at a time.

Every concept you cracked was a diya you lit yourself. Look back tonight and you’ll see a whole row of them, glowing.

So rest. Celebrate. Have that extra laddoo. The world is going to need your light again soon.

Wishing you a Diwali as amazing as you are,

Team Scaler
